Please rate the Purpose: Direct-to-consumer DNA testing and internet websites have made donor anonymity obsolete. There are a myriad of interests among and between stakeholders regarding this contact as well as competing interests amongst donors, donor-conceived persons, as well as their families with linking and contact. The age and stage of development impacts interest and access to donor linking. Expectations and relationships are not defined by genetics but may be informed by them.
Overall purpose of this activity related to objectives
Please rate achievement of each objective regarding this topic
1. Identify how donor linking can occur through DNA banks and websites
2. Examine the dilemmas posed by donor linked contact
3. Discuss the implications of donor linking for professionals in the ART field
Please rate the speaker’s teaching expertise:
1. Is knowledgeable in content area
